

What the neighbourhood graph does, K = 3

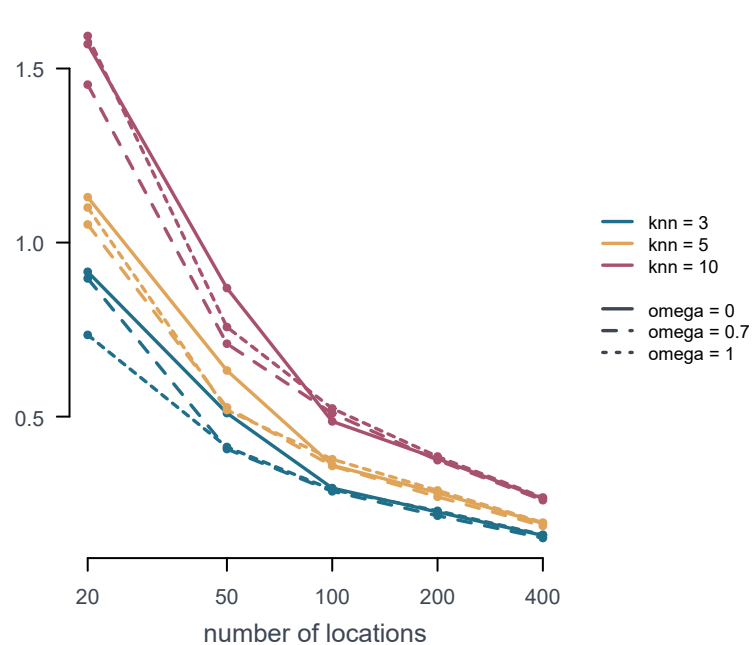

mean degree

share of edges crossing a regime median edge length

knn multiplies the number of edges, but from $n = 100$ on it leaves unchanged the information the graph holds about the partition; under the default penalty scale it also leaves its weight unchanged